

Financial Times North America's Innovative Lawyers Report Recognizes Williams Mullen for Launch of Unmanned Systems Association of Virginia

12.18.2017

In September 2016, Williams Mullen was one of several companies who helped launch the Unmanned Systems Association of Virginia, which seeks to promote a legal and regulatory framework that supports innovation, collaboration and growth in the unmanned systems industry in the Commonwealth. The collaborative effort was recently recognized by Financial Times North America in its annual Innovative Lawyers report. For more info on the report, click below.

Financial Times: North America Innovative Lawyers

Related People

- Kevin D. Pomfret ? 703.760.5204 ? kpomfret@williamsmullen.com

Related Services

- Unmanned Systems