

Estate Planning Adjustments for Tax Year 2020

11.06.2019

Many estate planning provisions of the Internal Revenue Code contain brackets, exemptions, exclusions, deductions, or other figures that the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) adjusts annually for inflation. Recently, the IRS released these inflation adjustments for tax year 2020 in Revenue Procedure 2019-44.

Transfer Tax Provisions

For tax year 2020, taxpayers will see their basic exclusion amount (and GST exemption amount) increase to $11,580,000 from $11,400,000. This $180,000 increase from 2019 provides additional planning opportunities, including the ability to make additional, larger gifts during one's lifetime without paying gift tax and to make late allocations of GST exemption.

Other relevant figures will increase slightly in 2020. The annual exclusion for gifts to a spouse who is not a U.S. citizen increases to $157,000, a $2,000 increase from last year, and the gift amount from a foreign person that triggers information reporting obligations by the recipient increases slightly by $261 to $16,649. The gift tax annual exclusion remains at $15,000 per individual.

A summary table of relevant gift and estate figures as adjusted for tax year 2020 is provided below. Previous years are added for context.
